

aerometric measurement (in atmospheric chemistry)

A measurement of the temperature, pressure, air motion (velocity vectors), or other physical measurement to characterize an air mass.

1990, 62, 2172