

air contaminant (in atmospheric chemistry)

A substance, gaseous material or aerosol, which is present in an air mass at levels greater than in clean air. An air contaminant has been added commonly by anthropogenic activity.

See also air pollutant.

1990, 62, 2182