

air pollution survey (in atmospheric chemistry)

A study of the concentrations and geographical distribution of specified air pollutants in a given area and an assessment of the damage, if any, which the pollutants have caused.

1990, 62, 2173