

chemical vapour generation (in spectrochemical analysis)

A system in which the analyte is separated from the sample matrix by the generation of gaseous species as a result of a chemical reaction.

1992, 64, 262