

cryogenic

Low temperature processes, apparatus, etc.; usually applied to systems operated at the temperature of liquid nitrogen, helium or other condensed gas which boils at a very low temperature (at atmospheric pressure).

See cryogenic sampling.

1990, 62, 2183