

Davydov splitting (factor-group splitting)

The splitting of bands in the electronic or vibrational spectra of crystals due to the presence of more than one (interacting) equivalent molecular entity in the unit cell.

1996, 68, 2235