

detection efficiency (in nuclear analytical chemistry)

The ratio between the number of particles or photons detected and the number of similar particles or photons emitted by the radiation source.

1982, 54, 1539