

differential detector (in chromatography)

A device which measures the instantaneous difference in the composition of the column effluent.

1993, 65, 849; O.B. 99