

elution chromatography

A procedure for chromatographic separation in which the mobile phase is passed through the chromatographic bed after the application of the sample.

O.B. 92; 1993, 65, 824