

front surface geometry (in luminescence)

A system where excitation and observation are from the same face of the sample ($\alpha < 90^\circ$, $\beta < 180^\circ$ where α = angle of incidence of the exciting beam on the plane surface of the sample, and β = angle between the exciting direction and observation direction.)

1984, 56, 244