

immersional wetting

A process in which a solid or liquid, β , is covered with a liquid, α , both of which were initially in contact with a gas or liquid, δ , without changing the area of the $\alpha\delta$ -interface.

1972, 31, 598