

ion-exchange isotherm

The concentration of a counter-ion in the ion exchanger expressed as a function of its concentration in the external solution under specified conditions and at constant temperature.

1993, 65, 854