

large particle (in radiation scattering)

A particle with dimensions comparable with the wavelength of the radiation in the medium or larger. In practice a particle must be treated as large if its largest dimension exceeds about one-twentieth of the wavelength employed.

P.B. 65