

microheterogeneity (in biochemistry)

A particular glycoprotein may occur in forms that differ in the structure of one or more of its carbohydrate units, a phenomenon known as microheterogeneity.

1988, 60, 1391; W.B. 86