

operational pH cell

An electrochemical cell which is the basis of practical pH measurement consisting of a hydrogen ion-responsive electrode (hydrogen gas, or glass) and a reference electrode immersed in the test solution.

See pH.

1985, 57, 540