

quasi-molecular ion (in mass spectrometry)

A protonated molecule or an ion formed from a molecular ion by loss of a hydrogen atom. The use of the term ‘pseudo-molecular ion’ is not recommended.

1991, 63, 1550