

rupture (of a thin film)

The formation of a hole which permits coalescence or direct contact of the two phases which it separates.

1972, 31, 613