

sequential spectrometer

A spectrometer which enables the intensity of several spectral bands of radiation to be measured one after the other in time, i.e. sequentially.

1995, 67, 1729