

synchronously excited (fluorescence, phosphorescence) spectrum

A two-dimensional spectrum obtained by varying both the excitation and emission wavelengths simultaneously and which corresponds to the curve where a plane, parallel to the  $z$ -axis, intersects the excitation-emission spectrum (EES).

1984, 56, 242