

thermolysis

The uncatalysed cleavage of one or more covalent bonds resulting from exposure of a compound to a raised temperature, or a process in which such cleavage is an essential part.

See also pyrolysis.

1994, 66, 1173