

treated solution (in analytical chemistry)

The test solution that has been subjected to reaction or separation procedures prior to measurement of some property.

1990, 62, 1206