

zone (in chromatography)

A region in the chromatographic bed where one or more components of the sample are located. The term band may also be used for it.

1993, 65, 824; O.B. 96